General	Could we have the documents in French (Documents A and B)?	The documents unfortunately only exist in English. While the official languages of the OIE are English, French and Spanish, documents related to a call for tender are not part of the official publication which have to comply with the translations in the three languages, this for reasons of efficiency. As mentioned in article 4.5 of the Tender's procedure rules "Tenders, namely the envelope including the technical offer and the envelope including the financial offer, must be submitted in English" and a publication in English was therefore the most appropriate for this call for tender.
