

About: Community charter and governance

WildEpi Purpose and Scope

Code of Conduct for WildEpi

Data governance and use policy

Governance framework

Acknowledgements

WildEpi is inspired by national, regional, or global information systems for animal health. We thank all database owners and managers who have shared time and advice with us during development and contributed to our surveys: National wildlife database (WHISPers), Wildlife Health Australia National database (eWHIS), Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) Data Warehouse from Cornell University (USA), New Zealand's Surveillance Information Management System (Sims), Brazilian system of veterinary surveillance and emergencies (SISBRAVET), Thailand's PODD health system, Spatial Monitoring and Reporting Tool - SMART for Health developed by WCS, Brazil's Georeferenced Wildlife Health Information System (SIS-Geo), Spain's RASVE, Cuba's Sistema de Información y Vigilancia Epidemiológica (SIVE), Thailand's Information system from the Center of Elephant and Wildlife Health, Kenya's Input-users, the Bio-Security Early Notification System and Early reporting system for biosecurity from United Arab Emirates, LabVantage from Finland and the World Animal Health Information System (WAHIS) from WOAHS.

We thank GBIF for access to the animal taxonomy, and Imagemonics Institute from the University of Ohio for access to the image recognition model.

We thank the members of the Ad Hoc Group for NG-WHIS who helped shape the reporting system: Prof. David Hayman (Chair) Professor, Massey University New Zealand, Dr Daria Di Sabatino IZSAM NRC for Veterinary Epidemiology and Risk Analysis Veterinary Epidemiologist ITALY, Mr Florimond Manca Engineer Fairness Cooperative FRANCE, Dr Stuart Patterson, Veterinary College London UNITED KINGDOM, Dr Bijaya Kumar Shrestha National Focal Point for Wildlife NEPAL, Mr James Maddison Open Data Institute, UNITED KINGDOM, Dr Emilie Vallee Massey University NEW ZEALAND, Dr Danilo Leandro National Focal Point for Wildlife COSTA RICA,

We thank members of the WOAH Working Group on Wildlife for strategic advice: Dr Marcela Uhart, Dr Jonathan Sleeman, Dr William Karesh, Dr Rubert Woods, Dr Anna Wong, Dr Dolores Gavier-Widen, Dr Mwansa Songe, Markus Hofmeyr.

We thank all contributors of the wildlife health data sharing derisking strategy: Alexandra Phelan, Angus Cameron, Anna Wong, Bijaya Kumar Shrestha, Billy Karesh, Chadia Wannous, Christian Walzer, Colin Carlson, Danilo Leandro, Daria Di Sabatino, Diego Montecino, Dolores Gavier Widen, Garmie Voupawoe, Jaimie Hunnam, Elea Himmelsbach, Jane Parmley, Jenny Hutchinson, Johannes Christof Schnitzler, Jonathan Sleeman, Kimberli J Miller, Kyle Copas, Larry Hammel, Lauren Charles, Marcela Uhart, Marcelo De Andrade Mota, Markus Hofmeyr, Toni Tana, Mathieu Pruvot, Misheck Mulumba, Mwansa Songe, Paloma Shimabukuro, Paolo Tizzani, Rupert Woods, Stuart Patterson, Tiggy Grillo, Tracy Mac Namara, Annemarie Bouma, Zoe O'Donoghue, Craig Stephen.

WOAH Team: Dr Keith Hamilton, Ms Chehinez Ben Messaoud, Mr Mduduzi Magongo, Mr Stephan Benichou, Mrs Amna Kooli, Dr Paolo Tizzani, Ms Sophie Muset, Dr Francois Diaz, Ms Stephanie Signoret, Dr Alexandre Fediaevsky, Dr Claire Cayol.

WildEpi was developed by Cardiweb, a company from Codyssee ecosystem.